1 40 P.

TEENRISK is an international organization exploring risk-taking among teenagers. The organization has put up a poster in your school inviting students to send in their opinion on the following statement:

EVERYBODY SHOULD TAKE RISKS IN THEIR LIFE

The best essay writers will win an adventure weekend. You have decided to take part. In your essay argue for or against taking risks as a teenager. You should:

- analyse a risk you or someone you know has taken
- give reasons why certain risks should or should not be taken
- examine what effects risk-taking might have on personal development

Give your essay a title. Write around 400 words.

Notes (these will not be marked)

öffentliches Dokument