

THE HISTORY OF THE ARGEADS – NEW PERSPECTIVES

10th – 12th of June, 2015 | Department of Ancient History and Ancient Near Eastern Studies, Innsbruck University

Organization:

Sabine Müller, Robert Rollinger, Brigitte Truschnegg

In antiquity as well as in modern times, interest in the Macedonian dynasty is mainly focused on Philip II and Alexander III. However, parts of their politics have a long tradition in their empire that is important to analyze. The late Argeads were confronted with problems and formed part of socio-political and cultural structures that developed ever since the beginning of their clan's rule. The aim of this conference is examining the scarce and biased literary evidence of the Argeads from new perspectives, thereby posing new questions and adding recent results from archaeological and numismatic sources. The Argead Empire is not treated as a hermetic phenomenon per se but analyzed in its involvement in the history of the Mediterranean world. Thus, a special focus will be on the Persian impact on Macedonia as well as on other influence. The conference will examine important socio-political and cultural facts starting from the foundation myth of the Argead Empire transmitted by Herodotus up to the conquest of the Persian Empire and the question what the Diadochs may have learnt from the Argeads.
