

The McGill Institute for the Study of Canada is now accepting applications for the Eakin Visiting Fellowship in Canadian Studies for the Fall 2017 and Winter 2018 terms.

The Fellowship is awarded for periods of one or two academic semesters to an active scholar focusing on studies related to Canada. It is awarded to scholars with a Ph.D., normally on sabbatical from their own academic institution. The position is open, in terms of rank and discipline, to dynamic scholars who can enrich the study of Canada with fresh perspectives. The Fellowship may also be awarded to an individual outside of the academic community, whose writing, research or public career are making a significant contribution to intellectual life in Canada.

Incumbents are expected to teach one undergraduate course in Canadian Studies, deliver the Eakin Lecture (one lecture per academic year), participate in the activities of the Institute, and pursue exchanges with colleagues at McGill and other institutions. The Fellowship offers a stipend of CAD $15,000 per semester.

Applicants are invited to send:

- Letter of Application
- Curriculum Vitae
- Letter of Reference
- Course Proposal for a Seminar in Canadian Studies (one page maximum)
- Indication of term preference: (Fall 2017, Winter 2018 or full year)
