Curriculum for the

Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics

at the University of Innsbruck School of Management and Faculty of Economics and Statistics of the University of Innsbruck

§ 1 Qualification profile and programme objectives

- (1) The Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics is part of the group of studies in the social and economic sciences.
- (2) The Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics can be completed with one of the following fields of specialisation: "management" or "economics".
- (3) The Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics aims at intensive career preparation in the social and economic sciences and qualifies students for careers which require the application of well-founded, scientific knowledge and methods. As a scientific programme, it essentially covers theories, methods and instruments of management and economics. Findings from the field of gender research are also taken into consideration.
- (4) In addition to subject-specific competences, the courses of the Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics also promote general social skills.
- (5) The educational objective of the Bachelor's programme is to enable its graduates to develop problem-solving competences that are scientifically sound and well-grounded in theories and methods. These problem-solving competences should enable them to work on typical issues of their future occupational fields in a scientifically sound and practically relevant manner. As academically trained experts in the economic sciences, they will have a broad range of qualifications and thus will be able to work in diverse occupational fields.

- (6) In particular, the Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics prepares students for careers as managers, planners, analysts and consultants in enterprises of different sizes and in different areas. This includes careers as freelancers, in public administrations, in associations, in chambers, in special interest groups and in the media, as well as in teaching and research institutions.
- (7) Graduates of the Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics with specialisation in management should
- have acquired solid knowledge of management methods and instruments; they should be able to employ this knowledge when assuming professional managerial responsibilities in the organisations referred to in point (6) and to identify and resolve issues in an independent manner;
  - be able to systematically apply, interpret and utilise empirical data and thereby to provide answers to practical questions;
  - have the competence to reflect on the social and ethical implications of their managerial actions; and
  - have worked with the subject matter and developed the methodical know-how and competences necessary to adequately understand new scientific findings in management and to pursue a Master's programme.
- (8) Graduates of the Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics with specialisation in economics should
- be able to employ expert economic knowledge and methods in the specific occupational fields referred to in point (6) in a scientifically sound and practically relevant manner;
  - be able to recognize, analyse and provide solutions for economic issues;
  - have the competence to research, analyse and interpret empirical data relevant for coping with economic issues;
  - have worked with the subject matter and developed the methodical competences necessary to adequately understand new scientific findings in economics and to pursue a Master's programme.

§ 2 Scope and duration of the programme

- (1) The Bachelor's Programme Management and Economics covers 180 ECTS-Credits. This corresponds to a duration of the study programme of six semesters. One ECTS-Credit corresponds to a workload of 25 hours.
- (2) The study programme is structured in modules.
- (3) Students select between a specialisation in management or a specialisation in economics. The choice must be made at the latest after successful completion of three of the four modules Fundamentals of Management acc. to §5 par. 1 no. 5-8 as well as two of the three modules in the core area of economics acc. to §5 par. 1 no. 10 – 12 and must be declared in writing to the Director of Studies.
- (4) For the specialisation in Management the following modules must be passed:
1. the compulsory modules of the core and support area acc. to §5 par. 1 (120 ECTS-Credits),
  2. elective modules from the offer in special business administration (SBWL) acc. to §5 par. 2 covering 30 ECTS-Credits,
  3. further elective modules acc. to §5 par. 2 covering 30 ECTS-Credits.
- (5) For the specialisation in Economics the following modules must be passed:
1. the compulsory modules of the core and support area acc. to §5 par. 1 (120 ECTS-Credits),
  2. elective modules from the offer in special economics (SVWL) acc. to §5 par. 4 covering 30 ECTS-Credits,
  3. further elective modules acc. to §5 par. 4 covering 30 ECTS-Credits.

§ 3 Types of courses and maximum number of participants

(1) Courses without continuous performance assessment:

Lectures (VO) are courses held in lecture format. They introduce the research areas, methods and schools of thought for a given subject.

(2) Courses with continuous performance assessment:

1. Introductory seminars (PS) introduce students interactively to scientific literature through the treatment of selected issues. They convey knowledge and methods of academic work. Maximum number of participants: 40
2. Seminars (SE) provide in-depth treatment of scientific topics through students' presentations and discussion thereof. Maximum number of participants: 30
3. Practical courses (UE) focus on the practical treatment of concrete scientific tasks within an area. Maximum number of participants: 25
4. Lectures with integrated practical parts (VU) focus on the practical treatment of concrete scientific tasks that are discussed during the lecture parts of the course. Maximum number of participants: 160

§ 4 Admission to courses with a limited number of participants

(1) In courses with a maximum number of participants, places are allocated based on the following procedure:

1. At the beginning of the registration period for course units of a given semester, each student receives 1,000 points twice. At the end of the registration period for a specific semester, unused points expire.
2. Students use as many points as they want from the first account of 1,000 points to bid for course units which they want to enrol in; This way, they express their course preferences for the 1st enrolment round .
3. Students use as many points as they want from the second account of 1,000 points to bid for course units which they want to enrol in; This way, they express their course preferences for the 2nd enrolment round.
4. Depending on how many points from the first account are used to bid for certain course units, students receive course places in modules corresponding to a maximum of 30 ECTS-Credits, , provided they fulfil the admission requirements.
5. Depending on how many points from the second account are used to bid for certain course units, students receive courses which have not been allocated according to no. 2 and 4 above. Again, students have to fulfil the respective admission requirements.
6. The total number of course units assigned according to no. 1-5 above may not exceed the number of courses necessary in a given semester (30 ECTS-Credits).
7. A lottery system is used to allocate course units still available after the course allocation described in no. 1-5 above to those students who have received fewer courses than necessary in a given semester (30 ECTS-Credits).
8. Through the procedures described in no. 1-7 above, all students are assigned exactly the number of course units necessary for the programme in any given semester (30 ECTS-Credits).

(2) Course places in elective modules in special business administration (advanced) acc. to §5 par. 2 or special economics (advanced) acc. to §5 par. 3 are allocated acc. to the grade ranking in the corresponding module in special business administration (fundamentals) or special economics (fundamentals).
