Curriculum for the

Master's Programme Music Studies

at the Faculty of Philosophy and History of the University of Innsbruck

§ 1 Qualification profile

- (1) The Master's Programme Music Studies is grouped among the study Programmes of Humanities and Cultural Studies.
- (2) The Master's Programme Music Studies is based on a subject-specific Bachelor's Programme and serves an in-depth and complementary preparatory scientific training. The Master's Programme places great emphasis on independent dealing with scientific problems, problem solving competence and promoting of critical reflection of research results and methodological approaches.
- (3) Graduates of the Master's Programme have a highly specialized knowledge of different areas of musicology and this makes them capable of undertaking innovative and original research. They are able to independently make themselves familiar with new problems, to arrive at conclusions verified by methodology and to take the current state of research into account. They are able to apply their knowledge and understanding in a way that demonstrates their subject-specific competence as well as their competence for integrating knowledge from different areas in a scientifically correct manner.
- (4) Possible fields of work for graduates:
 1. research (at and increasingly also outside of universities and other academic institutions),
 2. lecturing at universities and art schools, conservatoria and comparable institutions, music schools and other institutions of adult education,
 3. music collections and music-related documentation institutions of all kind (libraries, archives, museums, music information centres)
 4. media (radio, TV, print media, Internet),
 5. cultural management (events sector and agencies),
 6. dramaturgy,
 7. culture industry (publishers, recording industry),
 8. cultural administration and politics.

§ 2 Scope and duration

The Master's Programme Music Studies covers 120 ECTS-Credits. This corresponds to a duration of the study programme of four semesters.

§ 3 Admission

- (1) Admission to the Master's Programme Music Studies requires a relevant Bachelor's degree awarded by a University or a University of Applied Sciences ("Fachhochschule") or a relevant degree acquired at a recognised post-secondary educational institution home or abroad.
- (2) A relevant Bachelor's programme is in any case the Bachelor's Programme Music Studies at the University of Innsbruck. The rectorate decides on study programmes in question or on the equivalence of a study programme passed at a post-secondary educational institution home or abroad for the admission to the Master's programme.
- (3) In the event that equivalence has been established in principle but with certain qualifications missing for full equivalence, supplemental examinations may be required by the rectorate. These examinations must be passed during the respective master's programme.

§ 4 Types of courses and maximum number of students per course

- (1) Courses without continuous performance assessment:
Lectures (VO) are courses held in lecture format and courses without continuous performance assessment. They introduce the research areas, methods and schools of thought for a given subject. No maximum number of participants.
