

Series “Colloquia on Postsecular Conflicts”

Marcia Pally

Mechanisms of Populism: Trump und die neuen Evangelikalen

Date: Monday, 4th of June 2018
Time: 6.30pm
Place: Theology, Dekanatssitzungssaal, Karl-Rahner Platz 1, 1st floor

Speaker:

Professor Marcia Pally teaches at New York University, at Fordham University, and is a regular guest professor at the Theology Faculty of Humboldt University, Berlin. Her most recent books are Commonwealth and Covenant: Economics, Politics, and Theologies of Relationality (2016) and America’s New Evangelicals: Expanding the vision of the common good (2011). Her research interests include religion, culture, and politics as well as the intersection of language and culture. She spoke at the World Economic Forum in 2010 and has been awarded both the prestigious Mercator Guest Professorship (German Research Foundation) and grants from the German Academic Exchange Service. She was a Fellow at the Institute for Advanced Study in Berlin (Wissenschaftskolleg zu Berlin) in 2007 and 2010. In addition to her academic work, Prof. Pally has been a columnist in the U.S. and Europe for over 20 years, writing for Religion and Ethics, Religion News Service, The New York Times, The Guardian, Internationale Politik (German Council on Foreign Relations), die Zeit, Süddeutsche Zeitung, die Tageszeitung, Berliner Zeitung, and Frankfurter Rundschau, among other periodicals.

Veranstalter: Priv.-Doz. Ass.-Prof. Dr. Kristina Stöckl, Institut für Soziologie, Projekt Postsecular Conflicts (ERC 676804)