

Christina Antenhofer, assistant professor (history of the middle ages and auxiliary sciences)

Born in Bruneck (South Tyrol)1973; 1992-1999 Studies of Germanistics and French (Teaching Post), diploma studies of History and complementary studies in Latin and at the University of Innsbruck; 1996 studies of French Literature at the University Sorbonne (Paris IV) and of Philosophy at the Collège International de Philosophie. 2004 Phd (Medieval History and Auxiliary Sciences) at the University of Innsbruck. 1998-2003 Research assistant at the department of Germanistics /University of Innsbruck. 2004-2010 University assistant at the department of History and Ethnology / University of Innsbruck. Since 2005 Associate member of the International Doctoral Research Training Group “Political Communication from Antiquity to the 20th century” (Universities of Frankfurt, Innsbruck, Bologna, Pavia, Trento). Since 2010 assistant professor at the department of History and Ethnology / University of Innsbruck (Medieval History and Auxiliary Sciences). 2011 Visiting Professor at the University of New Orleans.

Major Areas of Research Interest

Renaissance and Middle Ages, Material Culture, Kinship Structures, Gender Studies, History of the Letter, History of Communication, History of Politics and Diplomacy, History of the Rural Landscape.