

PEACE IN THE WORLD TODAY

New and Simple Tools for Educators to Introduce Peace Studies in Their Classrooms

WORKSHOP für das Unterrichtsfach Englisch (AHS, BHS, Hauptschule, Neue Mittelschule)

From a global to a local context, this workshop will bring together educators in an open environment to explore and expand their own notions of peace and how to bring peace studies alive in their classrooms.

Using the multicultural context of Canada, this workshop will cover a series of topics surrounding the importance of youth learning about peace. Firstly, the concept of peace will be introduced as seen from a Canadian perspective and in relation to the rest of the world.

A discussion will then follow including practical learning of the topic through a series of activities. Educators will leave this workshop with a strong understanding of the value of introducing peace to their students, as well as simple tools and skills they can implement in their classrooms to start creating a new culture of peace.

DATUM: 25. Jänner 2013, 14.30-16.00, 16.30-18.00 Uhr

ORT: Seminarraum, GeiWi-Turm, 6. Stock, Universität Innsbruck, Innrain 52

Leaving Colombia as a refugee at the age of 17 and resettling in Canada, Carolina Arcila holds a MA in International Peace Studies from the UN Mandated University for Peace in Costa Rica and is currently writing her thesis for her second MA in Peace, Development, Security, and International Conflict Transformation from the University of Innsbruck. Carolina has extensive work and field experience in Canada, Ecuador, India, Costa Rica, and Kenya where she has worked for renowned organizations such as UNICEF, Free the Children and Me to We.

Eintritt frei

Anmeldung bis 17. Jänner 2013 im Zentrum für Kanadastudien erforderlich:

Herzog-Friedrich-Straße 3, 1. Stock, A-6020 Innsbruck
Tel +43 (0)512 507-39301 oder -39302; Fax +43 (0)512 507-38309 canada.centre@uibk.ac.at <http://www.uibk.ac.at/canada/>

In Kooperation mit dem Landesschulrat für Tirol

