

You are planning to do some voluntary work abroad after finishing school. You have found an interesting advertisement on the website of www.volunteeringindisasters.com, an international agency offering volunteer work placements all over the world:

Disaster Management Worldwide Live and work in 26 exciting countries around the world. Volunteer projects start year-round and last from two weeks to a year. Opportunities exist in teaching, care, conservation, community development, medicine, human rights, journalism, and more!
Jamaica - Disaster Management Project Help the community of St. Margret be better prepared for the next natural disaster by volunteering in Jamaica. Disaster Management volunteers raise awareness in schools and within the community, help develop evacuation plans, and coordinate drills. Participants will live with local host families in St. Margret. Contact: DisasterVolunteering, 384 West 26th Street, New York NY 10018 United States of America www.volunteeringindisasters.com

As you are interested in working in Jamaica, you decide to write a letter of motivation.

In your letter you should:

- explain why you are writing
- emphasise your relevant skills
- give reasons why you should be considered

Write around 200 words.
