

TROPICAL BIOLOGY ASSOCIATION

Field course in tropical ecology and conservation

APPLY ONLINE
by 17th March

Kibale Forest National Park, Uganda
10th July to 9th August 2024

- Study in the heart of the forest
- Discover incredible biodiversity
- Learn from internationally-renowned experts
- Develop research and collaboration skills
- Create your own research project
- Launch your career in conservation
- Join a community of inspired conservationists

"The TBA course was unique from start to finish. From starting learning theory and practical methods for conservation field work to carrying out our own research project."

Gareth Fee, South Africa

More details www.tropical-biology.org

Applicants should have completed three years of a biological degree.

Courses are worth 10 ECTS credits.

Students from Tropical Biology Association member institutions pay reduced course fees.

Scholarships available.

