

Research Technician Position

We will be a new research group at the Institute of Pharmacy, Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology at the University of Innsbruck and look for a Research Technician (CTA or equivalent).

Our joint project will start in March 2015.

The successful candidate shows a background in molecular biology (DNA technology) and protein biochemistry (Western Blot). Additional experience in immunohistochemical techniques is of advantage. The responsibilities also include experimental contribution to research projects. Good communication skills and a sense of responsibility are required.

Please send your application including an informative CV via email to alexandra.koschak@meduniwien.ac.at.