

WE ARE LOOKING FOR

MARKETING INTERN (F/M/X)

Hi, future femle employee!

It's our vision that every womxn can live in harmony with her hormonal cycle. Therefore, we developed the cycle-companion which is a hormonal cycle-tracking app providing daily tailored tips as well as supporting womxn with hormonal medical issues (e.g. for endometriosis).

To grow our community, we are looking for a highly engaged, full-time Marketing Intern (m/f/x) – in our office in Innsbruck.

These are the areas where femle needs you:

- Community management and event organisation
- Manage and monitor social media channels
- Support in content creation with hormonal cycle experts
- Manage partnerships and ambassadors
- Understand competitors and analyze marketing trends
- Share your ideas on strategy and positioning of femle

These are the things we think you need:

- Being a self-starter who doesn't need direct supervision
- Connection to our vision that every womxn can live in harmony with her hormonal cycle
- Know how on how to use a camera and set up video-content
- Interest in communication strategies

This is why we think the job is amazing:

- Working in an impact startup means making the world a better place
- Responsibility and freedom
- Dynamic, modern, flexible and fun working environment
- Learning about the startup life

This is the information you probably looked for:

- Full time position (38,5h)
- Free to choose your hours in the office
- Potential take-over from intern to an exciting role at femle

Send us your CV, a one-sentence motivational statement and your earliest starting date to lina@femle.co.

Lina is looking forward to your application!
