Curriculum for the Continuing Education Programme in German as a Foreign Language /German as a Second Language:
Basic Programme
at the University of Innsbruck

§ 1 Qualification Profile
(1) Graduates of the continuing education programme in German as a Foreign Language/German as a Second Language gain professional and social competences especially in the following areas:
   1. Methodology and didactics of foreign and second language teaching
   2. Language acquisition
   3. German linguistics
   4. Psychology of learning
   5. Foreignness and migration
   6. Literary didactics
   7. Interculturality
   8. Presentation and moderation techniques
(2) They are able to apply scientifically-based knowledge, skills, methods and theories in their future professions, guided by research and related to practice.
(3) Thanks to these competences graduates are able to teach based on the Common European Frame of Reference (CEFR) and on the principles of active learning, to promote life-long language learning, intercultural language and culture transfer and to put the main focus on the learners.
(4) The graduates are able to critically reflect on their acquired knowledge and to continue their subject-specific education to ensure the quality of their teaching.
(5) The continuing education programme qualifies its graduates for teaching German as a foreign and second language at schools, universities and other institutions for adult education and thus increases flexibility for choosing a profession as well as mobility.
The continuing education programme “German as a Foreign Language/Second Language: Basic Course” (in combination with a subject-specific Bachelor’s degree) qualifies for the advanced continuing education programme “German as a Foreign Language/German as a Second Language”.

§ 2 Admission

(1) Prerequisites

1. Persons meeting the following prerequisites can be admitted to the programme:
   a) graduates of a philological university study programme home or abroad,
   b) graduates of the Bachelor’s Secondary School Teacher Accreditation Programme I – New Secondary Schools at a Pedagogical University or a Bachelor’s Secondary School Teacher Programme (General Education) at a University in the subjects of German or a modern foreign language,
   c) students, who have passed at least the first diploma exam of a philological study programme home or abroad and can proof having successfully passed courses corresponding to at least 60 ECTS-Credits in the fields of linguistics and/or foreign language didactics and other subject-specific courses of the second part of the studies corresponding to at least 60 ECTS-Credits,
   d) applicants, who are qualified for entering a university and who have proof of at least five years of experience in teaching German as a Foreign Language and/or German as a Second Language amounting to a total of at least 450 hours (corresponding to 600 teaching units of 45 minutes each or 540 units of 50 minutes each).

2. Generally all applicants must have basic knowledge in the fields of the German linguistics and modern German literature.

3. Persons, the mother tongue of whom is not German, must proof knowledge of the German language. This proof can be:
   a) completion of a study programme in German Philology at an approved post-secondary educational institution,
   b) completion of a philological study programme at an approved post-secondary educational institution of the German-speaking area,
   c) a school leaving certificate from a school with German as language of tuition,
   d) internationally approved certificates of at least C1-level of the Common European Reference Frame (CERF).

(2) Admission procedure and definite admission

1. Applications for the continuing education programme must be submitted meeting the deadline and with the required documents (application form, CV, motivational letter, confirmation of certificates and/or professional experience). An application interview offers the applicants for the continuing education programme the opportunity to present the information handed in with their application in detail and to comment on their professional objectives relating to the continuing education programme in person. The course director selects the course participants based on the formal prerequisites and the application interview. The application interview is carried out before an admissions’ committee, which is called by the course director and consists of the course director and two other lecturers of the continuing education programme.

2. Persons, who have been admitted to the programme and have paid their fee are to admitted to the University of Innsbruck as non-degree programme students.

3. A maximum of 25 participants are admitted to the course.
§ 3 Scope and duration of the continuing education programme

The continuing education programme covers 60 ECTS-Credits. One ECTS-Credit corresponds to a workload of 25 hours. The continuing education programme is offered part-time and has a duration of three semesters.

§ 4 Types of Courses

(1) Practical courses (UE) focus on the practical treatment of concrete scientific tasks within an area.

(2) Lectures with practical elements (VU) focus on the practical treatment of concrete scientific tasks that are discussed during the lecture parts of the course.

§ 5 Compulsory Modules

Compulsory modules amounting to 52.5 ECTS-Credits must be passed.

Total: 5 ECTS-Credits

Objective: Graduates have advanced their knowledge in the fields of productive and interactive skills and are able to use the theory of testing and evaluating in practice. They have basic knowledge of illiteracy and methods used in alphabetisation courses and can plan and conduct teaching units. They also have basic knowledge of articulatory and auditive phonetics and of its application for training pronunciation in lessons and they are able to use exercise types adapted to the target and progression.

Prerequisites: none
§ 6 Final Thesis

(1) Each participant of the continuing education programme must hand in a written paper amounting to 7.5 ECTS-Credits.

(2) The final thesis must be written on a theme covered in modules 1 – 6 and is supervised and evaluated by the lecturer of the respective course.

(3) Participants are entitled to suggest a supervisor from the available course lecturers to the course director in writing. The course director confirms the suggestion within a month of the receipt of the announcement if the suggested course lecturer can take on the supervision.

§ 7 Examination Regulations

(1) Participants of the continuing education programme have to proof their success by positive evaluation of all courses. The method of assessment is announced at the start of the course by the course lecturer.

(2) There is compulsory attendance for courses with continuous performance assessment (lectures with practical elements and practical exercises). The regulations for possible missing of lessons are announced at the start of the course. Assessment of courses with continuous performance assessment is based on regular written and oral contributions.

§ 8 Title for graduates of the continuing education programme

Having successfully passed all prescribed examinations and the final thesis, graduates of the university continuing education programme receive the title “Academic Expert for German as a Foreign/Second Language”.

§ 9 Coming into force

(1) This curriculum comes into force one month after its publication.

(2) The modifications of the curriculum as published in the University of Innsbruck Bulletin of 28 May 2015, Issue 53, No. 436 come into force one month after their publication.
