§ 1 Qualification profile

- (1) Graduates of the Continuing Education Programme Digital Business have a comprehensive overview of the effects and correlations of the increasing digitisation of companies, the economy and society. In terms of content, the university course provides in-depth scientific and application-oriented knowledge in the field of management sciences with regard to digital transformation processes and enables theory-supported reflection of one's own actions.
- (2) The graduates of the continuing education programme are able to use theory-based approaches to work on research-related and application-oriented problems regarding the challenges of the digital transformation of companies and institutions, to develop alternative solutions to digitisation issues, to make responsible informed decisions and to assess their consequences.

§ 2 Admission

- (1) Prerequisite for admission to the continuing education programme is the completion of a diploma or Bachelor's or Master's programme in social and economic studies or in business law at an approved post-secondary education institution home or abroad corresponding to a minimum of 240 ECTS-Credits.
- (2) In addition, persons who have passed a Bachelor's programme in the fields of economy, business law or computer science corresponding to a minimum of 180 ECTS-Credits at an approved post-secondary education institution home or abroad and who have proof of a minimum of three years of professional experience acquired after their degree, may be admitted.
- (3) Persons who have completed a natural science, technical or law-related study programme may be admitted, if they have proof of a minimum of three years of professional experience acquired after their degree.

§ 3 Admission procedure

- (1) To be admitted to the continuing education programme, all applicants have to successfully pass an admission procedure. The final decision on the admission to the course is made by the rectorate, based on a recommendation of the programme director.
- (2) Information on the compulsory admission procedure are published on the website of the University of Innsbruck.
- (3) The number of participants is limited to 30. The number of study places may be adjusted by the programme director, considering pedagogical and organisational aspects and in compliance with the cost budget.
- (4) Participants, who have been accepted to the continuing education programme and have paid their tuition fee, are admitted as non-degree students to the University of Innsbruck by the Rectorate.

§ 4 Language of tuition

The language of tuition of the continuing education programme is English.

§ 5 Scope and duration

- (1) The continuing education programme covers 90 ECTS-Credits, 15 ECTS-Credits of which are allocated to the Master's Thesis.
- (2) The continuing education programme is offered as full-time study programme. One ECTS-Credit corresponds to a work load of 25 hours.
