

GASTVORTRAG

The Eurovision Song Contest Sixty Years of Europe's History

Vienna is hosting the sixtieth edition of the Eurovision Song Contest in the same year that Austria is marking several major historical anniversaries, including seventy years since the end of the Second World War and twenty years since Austria's accession to the European Union. What can the Eurovision Song Contest teach us about the history of postwar Europe and European integration? How have Europeans viewed each other through the Eurovision Song Contest in the last sixty years?

Dr. Dean Vuletic is a historian who specialises in contemporary Europe. He is currently a Marie Curie Fellow in the Department of East European History at the University of Vienna.

Before and after the academic input, a DJ-set (David Prieth) will feature ESC hits of the past 60 years.
