"Archaeological research on the Sistan Plane
– excavations at Shahre Sukhte («Burnt City») and adjacent sites"
UNESCO World Heritage

Univ.-Prof. Dr. Rouhollah Shirazi
University of Sistan and Baluchestan, Iran

Montag, 20. Oktober 2014, 17 Uhr

Seminarraum 3, Zentrum für Alte Kulturen

Bronze age in the Sistan plane starts around end of fourth millennia B.C. The most prominent site of this period is "Shahre Sukhte" (Burnt city) which has been inscribed in the World Heritage List of UNESCO 2014.

Based on recent excavations and surveys more than 400 Bronze age sites have been identified in this region. That is the testimony of cultural flourishing of this Area. In this speech a summary of archaeological research in Sistan province will be presented.
